Relationships and Services

What Investment Services and Advice Can You Provide Me?

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

We offer investment advisory services to investors.

Asset Management Services: When providing these services on a discretionary and non-discretionary basis, we will manage your assets while we continuously monitor your advisory accounts with third party money managers at least on an annual basis and provide you with continuous and ongoing supervision of your advisory accounts. When discretionary authority is granted via execution of our investment advisory agreement, we will have the limited authority to determine the type and number of securities to be purchased or sold for your portfolio without obtaining your consent for each transaction. For non-discretionary asset monitoring services, the third-party money manager will have discretionary authority over your accounts.

You may/may not place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments that may be purchased or sold in your account so long as the restrictions are explicitly set forth.

We offer advice with respect to various products and types of investments. We do not have a minimum account size for our asset management services. For additional information, please see Items 4 and 7 of Part 2A.

Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What Fees Will I Pay?

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

For asset management services, you will pay an annual fee based on the total assets under management. The fee is payable monthly or quarterly in arrears.

We charge an asset-based fee which means that the more assets there are in the clients’ advisory account, the more the client will pay in fees. As such, we may therefore have an incentive to encourage our clients to increase the assets in his or her accounts. The third-party money managers that some of our clients’ use will withdraw fees which we receive a portion of. You may pay additional fees, including custodian fees, fees related to mutual funds, and other transactional fees.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For additional information regarding our fees and costs, please see Item 5 of Form ADV.

What Are Your Legal Obligations To Me When Acting As My Investment Adviser? How Else Does Your Firm Make Money And What Conflicts Of Interest Do You Have?

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Our asset management fee structure gives us the incentive to encourage clients to increase their assets in his or her accounts.

Our firm's financial professionals include licensed insurance agents. In these capacities, our financial professionals may sell insurance products for a commission. They have an incentive to recommend these products to you in order to increase their compensation. For additional information, please see Items 5 and 10 of Part 2A.

How Do Your Financial Professionals Make Money?

Our financial professionals are paid cash compensation as salary or bonuses based on their experience and roles at the firm and the revenue we earn from the financial professional's advisory services.

Disciplinary History

Do You or Your Financial Professionals Have Legal or Disciplinary History?

As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
